

- Ability to deal effectively with a wide range of individuals and groups, including public speaking and presentation skills in response to campus crisis events.

This general outline illustrates the type of work, which characterizes the job classification. It is not an all-encompassing stat